Home technology is a $14 billion industry that is advancing rapidly to meet consumer demand for connected experiences. CEDIA, the leading global authority for home technology, is central to this growing industry, serving 3,700 manufacturers, designers, and integrators of goods and services for the connected home. CEDIA’s education and training opportunities in combination with tools and events help member companies build relationships to stay relevant and informed.

To remain competitive and serve the needs of consumers, CEDIA’s members and potential members must also stay in the know about the latest products, technologies, and industry trends. That’s where we come in, providing inspiring business profiles, exclusive interviews with thought leaders in the field, new product reviews, and insight into the evolving market.

We differentiate ourselves from competitors through our hybrid audience of B2B and B2C readers and subscribers; delivering quality, credible content with the highest level of integrity; providing a consistent, reliable one-stop shop for independent industry news and information; and giving our subscribers access across a variety of platforms, including our website, electronic publications, special print editions, email newsletters, podcasts, smartphone applications, smart reader applications, social media, and multimedia hosting.

We offer a dedicated sales team, expert in attracting and retaining valuable advertisers, allowing our publication to have a larger budget than competitors.

An award-winning, experienced, reputable editorial team, led by Innovative Properties Worldwide, lends Residential Tech Today credibility, global circulation, and world-class educational programming for members of this dynamic and growing industry.

The bi-monthly print editions are published in a perfect bound, glossy format. By its very design, our issues are meant not to be thrown away and as such have a very high pass-along readership.

Residential Tech Today’s executive editor Jeremy Glowacki is an editorial veteran with more than 20 years of professional experience with numerous publications. In 2000, he helped create and launch Residential Systems, a business and technology magazine for the custom integration business. He served as day-to-day editor of that title and content director of the CEDIA Daily, Systems Contractor News, and several other B2B titles until joining Innovative Properties Worldwide in 2018. Jeremy was named a CEDIA Fellow in 2012.

Increase engagement with your advertising by creating (or having us create) a native ad. These ads are thought leadership and best practice articles that feel like a natural part of the magazine.
